So far, keeping it at the ~~SECRET~~ level should be possible. I anticipate having a final draft ready by mid-June and my thesis is due July 13th. I will let you know when I send it though.

Sending it via SCION is fine. You can send it to the following address: [_____]
This is the address of my ASC in Records Management and he will get your thesis to me.

In terms of the marking though, is it possible to keep this marked at the ~~secret~~ level? I'm asking because our ~~TS~~ network is solely located in a SCIF and it would be a lot easier for us if this could possibly be just marked as ~~secret~~.

Let me know when you send it also so I know to be on the lookout.

Thanks

My thesis draft is currently ~~SECRET//NOFORN~~ [____] however, I have typed on SCION/JWICS for easier communication with my thesis chair and to accommodate ~~TS/SCI~~ material if necessary.   Is it okay if I submit my thesis via SCION for pre-publication review?

Hi [ ]

My name is [ ] and I am the Prepublication Review Coordinator for the Records Management Division. [ ] [ ] has forwarded me your correspondence with her.

My first question would be what level of classification is your thesis? That will determine if we need to submit it via scion or just via this address.

In terms of the use of classified case data, I would just write the paper as you plan to, and then send it to us and we will look at it. The main thing we are looking at is that the case data will not pose harm to national security. If it is generic, it will probably be ok.

Another one of the things we look at is the use of 3rd party names and identifying info that is not cited or known to the public. If you can support the use of names via sources or publicly known info, then we have no issue. Otherwise, use pseudonyms.

Also just to let you know we have a 30 working day review policy. This means we usually get our review done within thirty working days, but sometimes due to the complexity of cases we may run over. This does not happen often though.

Hope this helps. Feel free to contact me if you have any further questions.

In the course of my thesis research, I have found 3 closed FBI cases that I would like to use as case studies. Do you know what the restrictions on using FBI case data are? This thesis will be classified and only available to people with the proper clearances, including outside of the FBI. Any further guidance would be appreciated.

Thank you,

I am currently [redacted] As part of this program, I have begun work on a classified thesis that will likely contain classified FBI data (including case information). My thesis will be published in the college library with appropriate safeguards due to the classification. Based on the information I could find on the intranet, it looks like your unit is in charge of pre publication review. I am trying to find out more information on this process to insure my thesis is completed on time with appropriate FBI approval. Any direction or guidance would be appreciated.

Thank you,
